Return From Camp

Returning from Camp Sequoyia, Bristol, Virginia, last week were Kay Ford, Patricia Gex and Thelma Namas wearing nice coats of tan and broad smiles at being back in Bay St. Louis.

They report a wonderful time and had many interesting features of camp life outside of the regular camp routine. They of course had a lot of fun on Topsy Turvey Day when they took charge of the camp as counselors and the counselors became campers. What teen age girl doesn't enjoy being in the shoes of their elders now and then.

The campers are divided into a certain number of groups and the group to which the Bay girls were assigned staged the annual banquet the night of September 4th. They planned it, did the decorating, made the place cards and favors.

The girls also had a touch of circus life on Circus Day when the riding ring was made into a circus ring and the campers impersonated clowns, movie stars, etc.

One thing which impressed the girls was the friendliness of the counselors and campers. They said, "We were just like one big happy family."

At the close of the camp the girls discarded camp clothes and dressed up in their party dresses, some of the girls taking the part of boys and wearing white slacks, white shirts. And what was the occasion? Just "Mardi Gras" with the carnival spirit running high. The king and queen was a deep secret as was the court until the opening of the ball and dancing held sway for the evening. This was a fitting climax for eight weeks of camp life.

Completes Pre-Flight Course At Maxwell Field

Among those of class 45-C completing the Pre-flight course at Maxwell Field, on September 2 was W. Steele Ansley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Ansley of this city.

The Cadet News published at Maxwell Field, when describing celebration of the completion of the course, says "Feature of the evening will be the beautiful and impressive Sabre Arch ceremony. Lead by Corps Commander Robert F. Miller and Honorary Cadet Captain Lucy Cabell the members of the graduating class and their dates will parade in a Grand March under the uplifted sabres of the flight lieutenants of class 45-C. The memory of this brilliant spectacle is one which the graduating cadets will treasure for years to come."

Steele needs no introduction to Bay St. Louis. A graduate of Bay High and a volunteer in the service the town receives each advancement made by him or any of "our boys" with pride and offer congratulations on the achievements they have made.

The town is patiently awaiting for their return when they will take up their life here where they are known and loved and hope that they will not again have to take up arms.

"School Days" are here again! All over our county eager young Americans are returning to their school rooms and entering "The dear old Golden Rule Days."

"Love Thy Neighbor as Thyself" is the real Golden Rule. Based on this teaching of our Lord, the Red Cross also called "The Greatest Mother in the World" was founded. Members of the Junior Red Cross are her children, following her leadership in being good neighbors. Good neighbors are friends in need. The War has created great needs. The Mother Red Cross and her children, Junior Red Cross do much toward helping.

There is almost, if not as much, work to be done on the home front to win a war as there is by the fighting men. Without Service materials for the sick and wounded, they could not carry on. This is the primary work of the Red Cross in War times; but much more than this is done both in the War Area and on the home front. The Mother Red Cross cannot do it all alone. She needs the help and support of her Juniors. Hancock County has a well organized Junior Red Cross, supervised by very able leaders. They did splendid work last season, and the Chapter knows it can look forward to their continued cooperation. These young people will keep up the Standard of American Service.

Our fighting men are keeping homes and schools safe and free from oppression and fear, give them thanks by helping to make it possible for them to have more of the necessities and comforts that they can receive only through the Red Cross. Make this year a real "Golden Rule Year." Thank God that America's children are Liberty's Children instead of "Hitler's Children."

The following is taken from a letter received by Mrs. Leo Seal from her nephew Herman Baxter who is serving with the armed forces overseas.

We quote: "Aunt Rebecca, the Red Cross really functions overseas, they give the soldiers everything they possibly can and the boys really appreciate it. I was amazed at the things they have done for us and it is all attributed to the folks back home like you and Mrs. Goldman and others who give so much of their time. We thank you individually and collectively for the splendid work that you are doing. May God bless you all. If the people back home could only see the grateful expressions on these boys' faces as they would feel gratified for having participated in this great work. I, myself, have one of the "Diddy Bags," as you call them, for toilet articles, made by someone back home and would take nothing for it. I am thankful and I know the men are too."

Mrs. Seal is very anxious that this letter of appreciation be given to every Red Cross worker in the County. It is more than an ample reward for their many hours of diligent labor.

The Surgical Dressings Unit reports that 36,000 bandages have been made and packed during the past month and are awaiting shipping instructions. This is a very notable amount of work. Special credit goes to the Waveland Ladies for their efforts. They made 15,500 dressings as their contribution to this increased quota. Keep up the excellent work, ladies—it is the will to do when the need arises, which has made our nation the greatest in the world today.

Former Kiln Resident Cited On Bravery in Italy

Picayune (Special)—Captain Walter R. "Sonny" Burke, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Burke of Carriere, who is commander of the ground crew of a fighter group somewhere in Italy, was promoted to the rank of major, according to a letter received here.

Major Burke, who has been in the army since November, 1941, has a record of which he can be proud. He has been overseas two years and was awarded the Soldier's Medal with the following citation:

"For outstanding heroism in the face of imminent danger in action, while riding on a truck near (town withheld) Walter R. Burke, with 12 other men observed that the eastern base section ammunition dump had caught fire, resulting in a series of terrific explosions. These men immediately volunteered to enter the danger zone and began removing ammunition and shells of all descriptions to a place of safety. Despite the fact that an ordnance officer advised them to withdraw, they refused to leave and continued to remove the explosives, utilizing their own truck to carry on this work."

"Although they were knocked from their feet several times from the concussion of the exploding shells, they did not lessen their efforts, but remained at this hazardous task. The outstanding courage and unflinching devotion to duty displayed by these men in voluntarily exposing themselves to this danger has reflected great credit upon themselves and the armed forces of the United States."

"By command of Major General Doolittle."

Later, a unit citation was presented Major Burke's group "for outstanding performance of duty in armed conflict with the enemy," resulting in 21 of the enemy being shot down and destroyed, four probably destroyed and many others seriously destroyed.

Major Burke is a brother of Mrs. Jack Lot of Kiln.

Awarded Silver Star For Gallantry In Action

With the 37th Infantry Division somewhere in the Southwest Pacific Area (Special)—"Gallantry in action" in battling a superior number of Japanese who had infiltrated into U. S. Positions on Hill 129, Bougainville Island, has earned Private First Class Earl Davis, 25, Picayune, Mississippi the Silver Star.

"When an advance was held up by 30 Japanese machine rifles and two heavy machine guns from behind a log, Davis took a Browning Automatic rifle from a wounded comrade and laid down effective fire on the hostile position," his citation reads in part.

"This disrupted the accuracy of the enemy force permitting the evacuation of American wounded. At this point, two tanks joined the infantrymen and Davis led a party forward under the protection of the armored vehicles. Then they attacked the Japanese at close quarters annihilating them."

A member of an Infantry rifle company of the 37th Division, Davis has been overseas 16 months serving also in New Hebrides and Guadalcanal. He has been awarded the Soldiers' Good Conduct Medal for "loyal and efficient service" and the Combat Infantryman Badge for combat action in a major campaign.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Davis, of Gainesville. He is married to the former Miss Julia Kellar.

Recreational Closes

On September 1st the Recreational for school age children closed for a short period of time.

The two days before closing will be remembered by these youngsters as "Miss Celine," who is tireless in her effort in behalf of the well being and happiness of her little charges, entertaining them royally.

There was a picture show party at Ortte's Theatre, with delicious refreshments later at Palmisano's, which occupied the children on Wednesday. On Thursday assisted by her mother, Mrs. Octave Favard and her sister, Mrs. Jos. Parillo, Miss Celine took her children on an all-day picnic, down to Bayou Caddy. They caught an abundance of large crabs and were overjoyed.

It was a tired but happy group that returned from that outing.

This recreational, under the expert supervision of Mrs. Ashcraft (or Miss Celine as she is so well known) offers a wonderful opportunity to parents and children alike. The children receive care and guidance both in health and play by one who knows her business well.

Mrs. Ashcraft announces that the school will reopen on Sept. 15th. After the regular school hours the group will report to her and remain until 5:30 p. m. during the winter time.

TAKE HEED

WE had occasion to go to the Reed Hotel the other day to see Howard Letissier, the genial manager, and as we neared the desk, we glanced at a card entitled "Our Creed" with the following quotation: "The memory of the customer will last longer than the war."

How true is this statement. Many people in the business world today have lost sight of the fact that they even owe their customers respect. The attitude is assumed in many instances of—accept the service we give you, or do without.

Of course, we realize that it is almost impossible for dealers to furnish all necessary supplies, and that the labor situation is hard to cope with; but in spite of these difficulties, the business man can at least make his customers feel that he has their interest at heart, and that he is trying to render a service under trying conditions, if he will only assume a pleasant attitude and serve with a smile.

Everyone understands the conditions under which people are working at this time, and the buying public is not expecting the service they received in the days gone by.

The business people of Bay St. Louis, with few exceptions, are trying to render a good service; and those few who have lost sight of the welfare of their customers, will probably be lost sight of when times return to normal. It may be well for them to learn that, "The memory of the customer will last longer than the war."

COMPROMISE NECESSARY

THE people of the United States in considering the settlement that must follow victory in Europe, should never lose sight of the fact that the war is being fought, not alone by the United States, but by our valiant allies, the British and the Russian people.

Naturally when the time comes to write the terms of the settlement, the British and the Russians will expect to have a voice in the arrangements made. It is not intelligent for the people of this country to expect that both allied nations will automatically agree with every suggestion that emanates from Congress, the White House or the pressure groups that promote foreign interests in the United States.

If we view the situation from a cold-blooded angle, the United States will be lucky to establish one-third of its viewpoint, insofar as contested items are concerned. This leaves one-third to conform to British opinion and one-third to take care of the Russian viewpoint.

It may be that the people of this country may not like some of the ideas advanced by our Allies. The same can be said with certainty of the reaction that British and Russian citizens will have to our thoughts. Consequently, if the three nations are to get along in peace, as well as in war, there must be compromise. It is essential for us, in the United States, to be willing to make reasonable concessions in the interest of unanimity.

HEAVY FLEET LOSSES

THE British Information Service announces that from the beginning of the war until August 13th, the British Empire lost 561 fighting ships, including three battleships, two battle-cruisers, five aircraft carriers, twenty-eight cruisers, fourteen armed merchant cruisers, 124 destroyers, 64 submarines, seven frigates, twenty-three corvettes and 289 miscellaneous smaller craft.

The United States, despite far-flung naval warfare against Japan, has lost only 173 warships, including one battleship, six carriers, nine cruisers, and twenty-seven destroyers.

While losses do not necessarily reveal the relative contribution made by the two nations, the heavy losses suffered by the British fleet indicates the dangerous task it performed in the days when the Empire stood alone against Germany and Italy.

The United States, at that time, was busily preparing for possible warfare and our stupendous success has been due, in part, to the time enjoyed while the British Navy stood between us and potential foes.

The British reveal that today their fleet is more powerful than when war began and everybody in this country knows that the United States navy has become the greatest fleet in the history of the world. If the two nations are wise enough to maintain their overwhelming naval superiority it will be a powerful force for future peace.

CHINESE GENERAL EXECUTED

THE announcement from Chungking, China, that General Chang Tso-shan, commander of an army, has been executed for dereliction of duty, may strike some Americans as a strange procedure, but nevertheless, gives a good idea of the determination with which top-flight Chinese are prosecuting the war against Japan.

The General was convicted by a court-martial of having allowed a commanding hill to fall into enemy hands, although ordered to defend Changsha at all cost. Apparently, the Chinese take their war seriously and expect a general to carry out orders regardless of difficulties.

It goes without saying that the execution of this general will stiffen the backbone of all generals in China. It is one thing to disobey orders, at the risk of life itself, and another to exhibit some recalcitrance when the worse that can happen is a court-martial and the knowledge that the matter will probably become a political incident.

State Buildings

Governor Bailey has announced that the State Building Commission will make a tour of the public buildings of the state early in September with a view of ascertaining where repairs are needed and to what extent they can take care of the situation. Many of the state buildings need some attention along the line of repairs.

Cotton Picker

Six mechanical cotton pickers are to be used on the Hopson plantation near Clarksdale. The cotton picker, which has already established a degree of success, will be closely watched during the present season. Cotton picking has been a problem for cotton farmers for the past several years. It is claimed that with six machines they can pick 36 bales a day. Cotton farmers everywhere are watching the work of the mechanical cotton picker and it will have a decided bearing on the future of cotton production.

Smith Elected

Judge L. A. Smith, Sr., of Holly Springs, present chancery judge of the third chancery court district, was elected a member of the State Supreme Court on Tuesday of last week, August 2, in a run-off primary with Hol. Webb Venable of Clarksdale. Judge Smith will succeed Judge W. D. Anderson who has served approximately twenty-eight years as a member of the Supreme Court. Judge Anderson ran in the first primary on July 4; but declined to enter the run-off when Judge Smith led the ticket. Then Judge Venable third in the July 4th voting, entered the run-off with Smith. Judge Smith will become a member of the Supreme Court in January next when Judge Anderson ends his term.

Important Meeting

The Supervisors of the state held an important meeting in Jackson last week. In our state government there is no more important office than that of supervisor, and much good ought to come from these statewide meetings where they can have a free exchange of ideas and plan uniform movements. They went on record in favor of building farm-to-market roads. That is a highly important movement, and if the program is adopted the supervisors will have charge of it. The convention adopted a resolution pledging support to the nominees of the Chicago Convention—Roosevelt and Truman. Senator Eastland was unable to keep his engagement as one of the prominent speakers on account of illness of his father, Judge Woods Eastland.

Wood Elected

Walker Wood, Secretary of State, spent last week in Cincinnati attending the National Convention of Secretaries of State. Once each year officials, who play an important part in the affairs of the respective states, hold a meeting and discuss ways and means of improving the situation in each state. Mr. Wood was on the program for an important address and was elected vice-president of the association. The 1945 convention will be held in New Orleans.

Soldiers Voting

Men and women of the armed forces by the teeming thousands are sending for the absentee ballots to be voted in the general election of November 7. The applications come to Walker Wood, Secretary of State, where they are separated by county clerks of the respective counties, who in turn send the ballot directly to the soldier in service. These applications have been coming in around a thousand each day for several weeks.

Better Business

The Mississippi Business Review, published by Mississippi State College, states that general business conditions in Mississippi for the month of July 1944 rank nine per cent above July 1943, and more than 100 per cent above the 1939-40 standard. One of the items of improvement is the severance tax on oil, which in July 1944 netted the state approximately $83,280, which indicates that the production of crude oil in the state in July was about 1,388,000 barrels. With the rapid development in South Mississippi, the oil tax will increase month by month.

ORTIE THEATRE SUNDAY-MONDAY 'WHISTLING IN BROOKLYN'

Red Skelton with Ann Rutherford and "Rags" Ragland.

Grape-O-Mix is back on the air and the "Fox" is howling again in McG-M's laugh riot, "Whistling in Brooklyn," starring Red Skelton, Ann Rutherford, "Rags" Ragland and Jean Rogers.

Red plays a radio actor who solves the most unbreakable crimes under the title of "The Fox." Just as he and his pretty sweetheart and assistant, Ann Rutherford, are leaving for his honeymoon, detectives appear on the scene with instructions to pick up Red. He is wanted by the police on the strength of a tip sent in by "Rags" Ragland, Red's self-appointed publicity agent who is long on ideas but short in brains, that he is the "Constant Reader," a desperate criminal wanted for murder.

Red eludes them thinking they are joking and then the real criminals step into the picture. Their object is to get Red out of the way permanently in order that the case may be forgotten. Red determines to get to the bottom of the mystery and goes to work. He uncovers vital evidence and after a series of hilarious adventures succeeds in rounding up the criminals single-handed and ends up a hero in Ann's arms.

Unexcelled Gift for Comedy Romping through the role of Wally Benton, "The Fox," Red displays the comedy gift that won him so many laughs in the past and brings "Whistling in Brooklyn" to the screen as the funniest of the Whistling series. Ann Rutherford is appealing and convincing as Wally's ever-loving sweetheart and Jean Rogers displays more of the comedy talent she uncovered in "A Stranger in Town." "Rags" Ragland has never been funnier than as Chester, Red's dim-witted pal. Others in the cast are wise-cracking Sam Levene, Henry O'Neill, Ray Collins, William Frawley and Howard Freeman.

Appearing for the first time on the screen are the famed Brooklyn Dodgers, who appear at their home grounds, Ebbets Field. George Haight produced and S. Sylvan Simon, did a fine job of direction.

When Buffaloes Stopped the Iron Horse ... TRAVELERS WERE PATIENT

Remembering the hardships of the stagecoach and covered wagon days, travelers once looked upon the new woodburner trains as solid luxury . . . despite choking smoke, bumpy roadbeds, no electric lights, no berths or dining cars . . . despite delays of hours on end when great herds of migrating buffaloes marooned them in the middle of an endless prairie.

Today, if the train, plane or bus is late, if reservations are hard to get or we can't squeeze into the dining car, we can still take comfort in the fact that America is moving at a pace that has astounded the world.

When this war is won, the transportation facilities of our country will have hung up an incredible record for efficient movement of fighting men and freight—and civilians, too. Meanwhile, public opinion is agreed that we should not travel unless absolutely necessary and, if we must go, take inconveniences cheerfully and patiently—like good soldiers.

In addition to supplying the armed forces with glider and bomber fuselage frames, wing parts, gun turret parts and foodstuffs, Anheuser-Busch produces materials which go into the manufacture of: Rubber • Aluminum • Munitions • Medicines • B Complex Vitamins • Hospital Diets • Baby Foods • Bread and other Bakery products • Vitamin-fortified cattle feeds • Batteries • Paper • Soap and Textiles—to name a few.

"THE STORY OF DR. WASSER" AT A. & G. THEATER SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Stirring Film of Great Navy Doctor

Finding a dull moment in one of Cecil B. DeMille's screen epics is like finding a needle in a haystack and so it's expected that Paramount's "The Story of Dr. Wassel" in Technicolor produced by DeMille, will be quite as exciting as his previous screen triumph.

In fact, insiders say that "The Story of Dr. Wassel," arriving Sunday and Monday at the A. & G. Theatre overshadow any action film to reach the screen thus far. There's logic behind their statements of fact, too. The reason is that the story is based upon the incidents which actually happened to Commander Corydon M. Wassel, U. S. N. and in turn were related by him and the wounded sailors whom he rescued from Java.

Playing the part of Commander Wassel is Gary Cooper while Laraine Day portrays the role of a nurse whose love for the doctor inspires him to great deeds. The deep emotions displayed by these two, it is said, reach out to pull at the heart-strings of movie-goers. Others whose fine acting makes the vivid scenes as realistic as the actual incidents, it is reported, are Signe Hasso, as Tremartin, a native girl; Dennis O'Keefe, as Hoppy; Carl Esmond, a Dutch officer; Oliver Thordike, Renny McEvoy, Melvin Francis, as wounded sailors.

The story is one of an Arkansas doctor whose devotion to duty first brings him to China where he administers to his suffering millions. With the outbreak of the war his Navy orders read Java and he leaves for that base—he leaves also the love of Laraine Day, the nurse in China who inspired him to discover the germ striking down Chinese people. The parting scene, it's said, is one of the more tender moments in the picture, for Dr. Wassel sacrificed marriage to the nurse in face of his call to duty.

An almost superhuman task faces the Navy Commander upon his arrival. Wounded soldiers from the U. S. S. Marblehead are being evacuated and the doctor's job is to shepherd them to safety. The picture describes the details of the long trip through the Jap-infested jungles where capture or death lurks behind every bush. The courage and heroism of the little staff who guarded these disabled sailors is almost beyond comprehension.

More than just a doctor serving his country, "The Story of Dr. Wassel" is a tribute to Uncle Sam's fighting men of the medical profession. It contains action, romance and all those elements which go toward making a fine motion picture. The screen-play is by Alan LeMay and Charles Bennett. Sidney Biddell is Associate Producer.

Subject to the other provisions herein contained, this lease shall be for a term of six years from this date (called "primary term") and so long thereafter as oil, gas or other mineral is produced from said land hereunder.

3. The royalties to be paid by Lessee are: (a) on oil, one-eighth of that produced and saved from said land, the same to be delivered at the wells or to the credit of lessor into the pipe line to which the wells may be connected; Lessee may from time to time purchase any royalty oil in its possession, paying the market price therefor prevailing for the field where produced on the date of purchase; (b) on gas, including casinghead gas or other gaseous substance, produced from said land and sold or used off the premises or in the manufacture of gasoline or other product therefrom, the market value at the well of one-eighth of the gas so sold or used, provided that on gas sold at the well the royalty shall be one-eighth of the amount realized from such sale, where gas is sold or used, Lessee may pay as royalty $50.00 per well per year, and upon such payment it will be considered that gas is being produced within the meaning of Paragraph 2 hereof; and (c) on all other minerals mined and marketed, one-tenth either in kind or value at the well or mine, at Lessee's election, except that on sulphur the royalty shall be fifty cents (50c) per long ton. Lessee shall have free use of oil, gas, and water from said land, except water from Lessor's wells, for all operations hereunder, and the royalty on oil, gas and coal shall be computed after reducing any so used. Lessor shall have the privilege at his risk and expense of using gas from any gas well on said land for stoves and inside lights in the principal dwelling thereon out of any surplus gas not needed for operations hereunder.

4. If prior to discovery of oil or gas on said land Lessee should drill a dry hole or holes thereon, or if after discovery of oil or gas the production thereof should cease, from any cause, this lease shall not terminate if Lessee commences additional drilling or reworking operations within sixty (60) days thereafter or (if it be within the primary term) commences or resumes the payment or tender of rentals on or before the rental paying date next ensuing after the expiration of three months from date of completion of dry hole or cessation of production. If at the expiration of the primary term oil, gas or other mineral is not being produced on said land but Lessee is then engaged in drilling or reworking operations thereon, the lease shall remain in force so long as operations are prosecuted with no cessation of more than thirty (30) consecutive days, and if they result in the production of oil, gas or other mineral so long thereafter as oil, gas or other mineral is produced from said land. In the event a well or wells producing oil or gas in paying quantities should be brought in on adjacent land and within one hundred feet of the leased premises, Lessee agrees to drill such offset well as a reasonably prudent operator would drill under the same or similar circumstances.

6. If at any time while this lease is in force and effect Lessee in its option deems it advisable and expedient in order to form a drilling unit or units to conform to regular or special spacing rules issued by the Commissioner of the State of Mississippi, or by any other State or Federal authority having control of such matters, or in order to conform to conditions imposed upon the issuance of drilling permits, Lessee shall have the right, at its option, to pool or combine the lands covered by this lease, or any portion or part thereof, with other land, lease or leases in the immediate vicinity thereof, whether such land, lease or leases are to one well by the above mentioned authority or authorities, and to be applicable only to such sands, horizons or strata as are covered by such regulations. Lessee shall execute in writing and record in the conveyance records of the parish or county in which the land herein leased is situated, an instrument identifying and describing the pooled acreage, and shall mail to the named lessor herein at his last known post office address by registered mail, a certified copy of such instrument. As between the parties hereto and except as herein otherwise specifically provided, the entire acreage so pooled into a tract or unit be tested for all purposes as if it were included in the lease. In lieu of the royalties elsewhere herein specified lessor shall receive, on the production from the unit so pooled, only such proportion of the royalties stipulated herein as the amount of his acreage (mineral rights) placed in the unit bears to the total acreage so pooled in the particular unit involved. Drilling operations on or production of oil, gas, sulphur or other minerals from any portion of the land covered hereby shall continue this lease in force and effect during, or after the primary term as to all of the lands covered hereby, irrespective of whether any portion thereof has been pooled. If operations be conducted on or production be secured from land in such pooled unit other than land covered by this lease, terms and shall not be allocated as mere rental for a period. Lessee may at any time execute and deliver to Lessor or to the depository above named or place of record a release or releases covering any portion or portions of the above described premises and thereby surrender this lease as to such portion or portions and be relieved of all obligations as to the acres surrendered and thereafter the rentals payable hereunder shall be reduced in the proportion that the acreage covered hereby is reduced by said release or releases. In this connection the above described premises shall be treated as comprising 3654.38 acres, whether there be more or less.

7. All terms and express or implied covenants of this lease shall be subject to all Federal and State laws, Executive Orders, Rules and Regulations, and this lease shall not be terminated, in whole or in part, nor Lessee held liable in damages, for failure to comply therewith, if compliance is prevented by, or if such failure is the result, any such Law, Order, Rule or Regulation.

8. Lessee shall have the right at any time during or after the expiration of this lease to remove all property and fixtures placed by Lessee on said land, including the right to draw and remove all casing. When required by Lessor, Lessee will bury all pipe lines below ordinary plow depth, and no well shall be drilled within two hundred (200) feet of any residence or barn now on said land without Lessor's consent. Lessee shall pay for damages caused by his operations to growing crops on said land.

9. The rights of either party hereunder may be assigned in whole or in part, and the provisions hereof shall extend to the heirs, successors and assigns, but no change or divisions in ownership of the land, rentals or royalties however accompanied shall operate to enlarge the obligations or diminish the rights of Lessee. No sale or assignment by lessor shall be binding on Lessee until Lessee shall be furnished with a certified copy of recorded instrument evidencing same. In event of assignment of this lease as to a segregated portion of said land the rentals payable hereunder shall be apportioned as between the several leasehold owners ratably according to the surface area of each, and default in rental payment by one shall not affect the rights of other leasehold owners hereunder. If six or more parties become entitled to royalty hereunder, Lessee may withhold payment thereof unless and until furnished with a recordable instrument executed by all such parties designating an agent to receive payment for all.

Dee and Jane Cuppers celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary last Saturday. Having so many friends, it seemed like half the town stopped in that evening to pay their respects.

Little Ida Moffat brought a home-made poem to read, called "Love Enduring Best Children Sifted 'Silver Threads Among the Gold.'" Will Dudley made a speech and proposed a toast.

And as I watched that toast—Dee with his glass of beer, Jane with her buttermilk—I thought to myself: There's a recipe for

Telephone Lines to the Front

Keeping step with the fast advancing war fronts all over the world are the telephone lines of communication. These lines are vital to military and naval operations and as the war fronts expand, vast amounts of additional wires, cables, switchboards and telephones are urgently needed.

Even when an invasion force wins, it loses vast stores of additional communication equipment. That is one price of victory. This is why there are shortages of all kinds of telephone equipment over here and why so many people are waiting for telephone service.

The best possible use is being made of the equipment we have, but there will necessarily continue to be waiting lists for service until the war is won and manufacturing plants have time to convert from war production and catch up with the backed-up demands for equipment.

We'd like those who must wait for a telephone to know that we shall continue to do everything possible to shorten that time.
